

Local governments and commons: let's work together and see each other as partners.

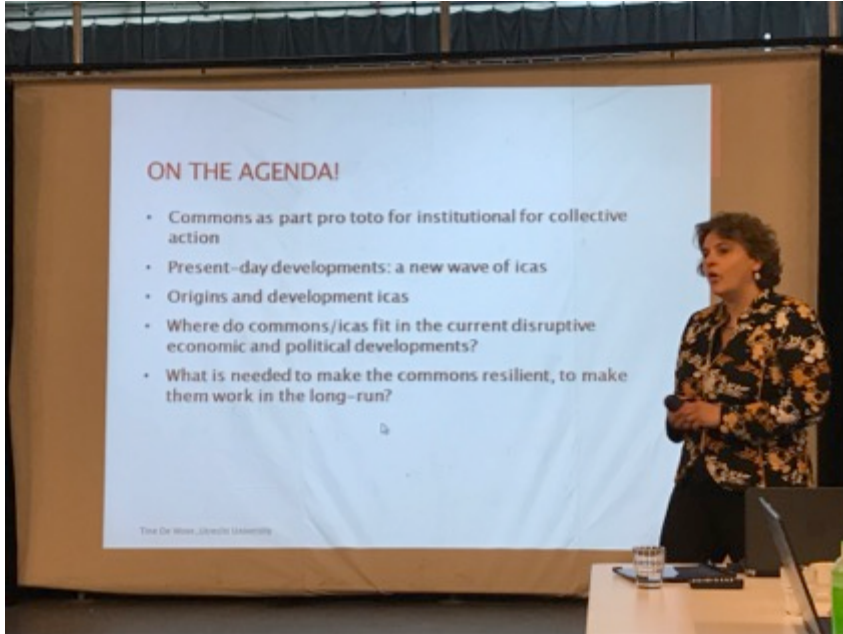

It was great to see the learning attitude of the Ghent people.

If a local government can work together with commons, really listen and learn through experience

I really believe we can change for the better.

Please think more in support then in regulations.

What is needed to make the commons resilient, to make them work in the long-run? >>>

How can the UCO etc people really be supported?

Listen en learn! And see the value of their great work: building a community (local governments aren't able to build communities like that). >>>

Great Ghent projects: sociale kruidenier (social grocery) and Rabot currency Torekes.
Are these projects somehow connected? >>>

Saving a church and “giving” it to the community, amazing! >>>

Already in transition? >>>

My conceptual brain and green fingers are itching when I see this (or is that only a Dutch saying ☺)).
